Procedures in Phlebotomy 5th edition Flynn Test Bank

SKU: 9780323937795-TEST-BANK

Test Bank - Chapter 01

Q: Which of the following medical personnel may perform venipuncture?

A. Doctors
B. Medical assistants
C. Phlebotomists
D. All of the options are correct (Correct)

Q: In the modern laboratory or medical setting, the phlebotomist must be aware of all of the following, EXCEPT:

A. the patient's diet
B. medications taken by the patient
C. the patient's previous medical/surgical history (Correct)
D. specimen requirements

Q: Which of the following is not a duty that may be performed by the routine phlebotomist?

A. Specimen processing
B. Intramuscular injections (Correct)
C. Bleeding time measurement
D. Collecting donor blood

Q: With additional training, phlebotomists may be cross-trained to become a multiskilled patient care professional capable of performing:

A. electrocardiograms
B. simple laboratory tests
C. certain nursing functions (such as blood pressure reading)
D. all of the options are correct (Correct)

Q: Certification differs from licensure in that:

A. Certification is a recognition of credentials that results from passing an examination demonstrating knowledge, while licensure is a governmental requirement that is needed to perform the duties of a phlebotomist. (Correct)
B. Licensure is recognition of credentials that results from passing an examination demonstrating knowledge, while certification is a governmental requirement that is needed to perform the duties of a phlebotomist.
C. Licensure is required for a phlebotomist to gain certification.
D. There is essentially no difference between certification and licensure.

Interactive Quizzes - Chapter 01

Q: In which of the following hospital areas is a phlebotomist least likely to work?

A. Blood bank
B. Emergency room
C. Clinical laboratory
D. Pharmacy (Correct)

Q: Bedside testing is also known as:

A. Clinical testing
B. Point-of-care testing (Correct)
C. Therapeutic testing
D. Waived testing

Q: Multiskilling is a recent trend in health care. An example of this a phlebotomist who performs which of the following tests?

A. Bedside testing
B. Blood collection
C. Bleeding times
D. Electrocardiograms (Correct)

Q: Passing a test that indicates the attainment of at least a minimum level of competency is the definition of:

A. Accreditation
B. Certification (Correct)
C. Licensure
D. Professionalism

Q: A governmental body's requirements to be able to practice phlebotomy is referred to as:

A. Accreditation
B. Certification
C. Licensure (Correct)
D. Professionalism

Q: Currently there are approximately how many approved phlebotomy training programs in the United States?

A. 0
B. 10
C. 20
D. over 50 (Correct)

Q: Hippocrates proposed that phlebotomy be used for...

A. Treating chronic diseases
B. A means for weight reduction
C. Treating acute diseases (Correct)

Procedures in Phlebotomy 5th edition Flynn Test Bank

D. Treating mental illness

Q: Which of the following tests typically require blood collected via venipuncture

A. Complete blood count
B. Human immunodeficiency virus
C. Bilirubin
D. All of the options are correct (Correct)

Q: A blood test that determines blood type may be most useful to what specialty area in health care?

A. Obstetrics (Correct)
B. Psychiatry
C. Endocrinology
D. Gerontology

Q: What other health care professionals may collect blood?

A. Nurses
B. Emergency medical personnel
C. Medical assistants
D. All of the options are correct (Correct)

Q: Which of the following is NOT something that a phlebotomist must be aware of when collecting blood from a patient.

A. Type of test requested
B. Medications the patient may be taking
C. Eye color of patient (Correct)
D. Effect of diet on required tests

Q: There is no specific code of ethics for phlebotomists, but there is one for the field of medical technology of which phlebotomists are a part.

A. True (Correct)
B. False

Q: There are several different professional agencies which certify phlebotomists.

A. True (Correct)
B. False

Q: Phlebotomy is a modern profession (i.e., it has only recently been practiced).

A. True
B. False (Correct)

Q: Communication is an essential skill for a phlebotomist.

A. True (Correct)
B. False