Occupational Therapy in Mental Health 2nd edition Brown Test Bank

SKU: 9780803659162-TEST-BANK

Chapter 2: The Unfolding History of Occupational Therapy in Mental Health

Multiple Choice

1. A humanistic treatment approach had a major impact on the formation of occupational therapy and is still an important aspect of occupational therapy's philosophy. Which 19th century theory can this approach be attributed to?
a. Moral Treatment
b. Arts and Crafts Movement
c. Mental Hygiene Movement
d. Reductionistic Movement
ANS: a Topic: History of Occupational Therapy
LO: 2.1

2. Which of the following models was initiated in response to industrialization of society and can be described as "reestablishing harmony between environment, occupation and the person"?
a. Moral Treatment
b. Arts and Crafts Movement
c. Mental Hygiene Movement
d. Reductionistic Movement
ANS: b
Topic: History of Occupational Therapy
LO: 2.1

3. Which occupational therapy founder was most closely associated with the development of performance-based tests?
a. William Rush Dunton, Jr.
b. Eleanor Clarke Slagle
c. Susan Tracy
d. George Barton
ANS: c
Topic: Founding of Occupational Therapy
LO: 2.2

Copyright © 2019 by F. A. Davis Company

Occupational Therapy in Mental Health 2nd edition Brown Test Bank

4. Which occupational therapy founder was most closely associated with habit training?
a. William Rush Dunton, Jr.
b. Eleanor Clarke Slagle
c. Susan Tracy
d. George Barton
ANS: b
Topic: Founding of Occupational Therapy
LO: 2.2

5. Habit training can best be described as _____.
a. A well-balanced daily routine that contributes to health and wellness
b. A program that encourages highly structured, monotonous daily routines
c. A program that requires equal time in each area of work, leisure, and self-care
d. A program that teaches specific behavior patterns for completion of activities of daily living
ANS: a Topic: Founding of Occupational Therapy
LO: 2.2

6. Habit training is still seen in occupational therapy practice today. Which domain of the American Occupational Therapy Association Practice Framework best reflects this concept?
a. Areas of occupation
b. Performance skills
c. Performance patterns
d. Client factors
ANS: c
Topic: Founding of Occupational Therapy
LO: 2.3

7. A 10-year-old with anxiety disorder is experiencing difficulty at school. As the occupational therapist at that school, which of the following best describes your role related to this child?
a. Promote inclusion and increased understanding of mental health issues in the classroom, at recess, and before and after school activities
b. Work on handwriting skills
c. Facilitate the development of a productive daily routine
d. Engage the child in sensory integration activities
ANS: a Topic: Mental Health Settings Where Occupational Therapists Practice
LO: 2.4

Copyright © 2019 by F. A. Davis Company